1. Please describe the nominee's leadership in academic medicine, both locally and nationally: Dr. Boyers is an exceptional leader who has been recognized by the ACGME through their Courage to Lead award. She is a regular contributor to the ABMS Committee on Oversight and Monitoring of Maintenance of Certification and is frequently consulted by leaders and teachers across the country. She has served as a Board member for the Alliance of Independent Academic Medical Centers and has served on the executive committee. Perhaps her most noted leadership role has been in the creation and implementation of the Center for Medical Education and Innovation at Riverside Methodist Hospital. She has created an academic approach to simulation training that will measure outcomes in a meaningful way and possible lead to breakthroughs in patient safety and quality education.

2. How has the nominee served as an advocate for the independent academic medical Center (IAMC)? Dr. Boyers' advocacy for Independent Academic Centers starts with her firm conviction that the education of residents is an obligation of health care providers. She understands the improvement in care associated with training programs and works to draw a connection between resident education and patient safety. She serves as an advocate in her roles as friend and advisor to the ACGME and ABMS.

3. Please describe how the nominee has articulated his/her vision for the future of academic medicine in the IAMC: Dr. Boyers believes that the opportunities are great for quality graduate medical education in Independent Academic Centers. Her highest impact vision has been in simulation training where she believes that training in teams will improve communication, hand off of care and ultimately patient safety. She is also well aware that resident satisfaction in training is important to professional development and success. By serving on the Alliance Board she has had the opportunity to share the vision of quality educational programs with other institutions.

4. Has the nominee received national recognition for his/her contributions to academic medicine? X Yes No

If yes, please describe: Dr. Boyers has received the ACGME Parker Palmer Courage to Lead award. This award is given to one or two individuals each year for significant contributions to leadership in academic medicine. She has also been recognized locally as a Health Care Hero. This award is given to 6 individuals each year who have contributed in a significant way to health care.

5. If chosen for this award, will the nominee be present to receive it at the AIAMC 2008 Annual Meeting, to be held March 27th thru 29th in Amelia Island, FL?
X Yes No Not Sure
