

Josh Levine, best-selling author, brand strategist, and dynamic speaker, will provide the keynote address The Culture Imperative. For more than 15 years, Levine has helped build culture-driven brands for a wide range of organizations— including Silicon Valley heavy hitters, prominent nonprofits, and well-respected blue-chip corporations. He is best known as the co-founder of the nonprofit CULTURE LABx, and as executive director helped it flourish into an international community. His new book, Great Mondays, teaches organizations how to design a company culture employees love. Mr. Levine is recognized for his entertaining, energetic, and educational keynotes that reveal fresh insights and inspire new action.

Ronald Amedee, MD, is the Dean of Education, Ochsner Health, and Head of the University of Queensland Ochsner Clinical School. He has given over 200 scientific presentations and invited lectureships in 15 countries; serves on the editorial boards of 13 specialty-related journals, and is the Editor-in-Chief of the Ochsner Journal. Dr. Amedee earned his Medical Degree from LSU School of Medicine and completed his residency in Otolaryngology there. He is a prior President of the AIAMC Board of Directors.

Jake Bidwell, MD, is the Designated Institutional Official and Vice President for Academic Affairs at Aurora Health Care. He also serves as Associate Dean for the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health – Milwaukee Clinical Campus and is President of the Aurora UW Medical Group. Dr. Bidwell is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin Medical School and completed residency training in Family Medicine at Aurora Health Care.

Caroline Diez, BA, is the Manager of Graduate Medical Education at John Peter Smith (JPS) Health Network. Prior to joining JPS in 2019, she served as Program Coordinator, Transitional Year, at Grand Strand Medical Center. Ms. Diez is a graduate of the College of Charleston where she earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Corporate and Organizational Communications. She is currently enrolled in Creighton University's Interdisciplinary Leadership (EdD) Doctoral Program.

Tricia Elliott, MD, is Sr. VP, Academic and Research Affairs, CAO, and DIO at JPS Health Network. She also serves as Professor in Family Medicine at Texas Christian University. Dr. Elliott has over 20 years of GME experience, including nationally recognized work with the ACGME Family Medicine Milestones group. She earned her Medical Doctor degree from University of Texas Medical Branch and completed residency training in Family Medicine at Albert Einstein/Montefiore Medical Center Residency Program in Social Medicine.

Victoria Gillet, MD, is a Faculty Member and Associate Program Director of Internal Medicine at Aurora Health Care. She also serves as Adjunct Assistant Professor at the University of Wisconsin-Madison School of Medicine and Public Health. Dr. Gillet is a graduate of the University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine and completed residency training at the University of Wisconsin.

Dan Harkness, PhD, LMFT, is a member of the Behavioral Health Faculty for the Iowa Lutheran Hospital Family Medicine Residency Program at UnityPoint Health – Des Moines. He is also co-chair of the GME Wellness Subcommittee at UnityPoint and continues working to expand physician wellness efforts outside of medical education to doctors practicing in the community. Dr. Harkness earned his Doctorate in Marriage and Family Therapy at Iowa State University.

Alisahah Jackson, MD, is System Vice President, Population Health Innovation and Policy, at CommonSpirit Health. She is also the CEO of Why Health Matters. For more than 15 years, she has designed strategies to improve population health, help vulnerable populations, and drive health equity as a clinical, academic, and operations leader for multiple large health systems. Dr. Jackson earned her Medical Degree from Wright State University School of Medicine and completed residency training in Family Medicine at Carolinas Medical Center.

Hania Janek, PhD, is Senior Vice President, Education at Baylor Scott & White Health and Associate Dean, Campus Operations, for Baylor College of Medicine- Temple Campus. She also serves as Clinical Professor, Department of Medical Education, at Texas A & M University School of Medicine. Dr. Janek earned her Doctorate in Biomedical Studies from Baylor University. She is a Director on the AIAMC Board.

David Kountz, MD, is Co-Chief Academic Officer and Vice President for Academic Diversity at Hackensack Meridian Health. He is also a Professor of Medicine and Sr. Associate Dean – DEI at Hackensack Meridian School of Medicine. Dr. Kountz serves as Co-Chair of AIAMC National Initiative VII JEDI: Justice, Equity, Diversity, Inclusion. He is a graduate of SUNY/Buffalo School of Medicine and completed residency training in Internal Medicine at Drexel University College of Medicine/Hahnemann University Hospital.

Clarence Lee, Jr., MD, is the President and CEO at Exhort Health. He is also a decorated war veteran, having served in the United States Air Force for 10 years with several assignments, his last being a flight surgeon flying the T-38 and U-2 airframes in one of the most elite squadrons in the USAF. Dr. Lee earned his Medical Doctor degree from Drexel University College of Medicine and completed internship training at the Brooke Army Medical Center.

Keedra McNeill, MD, is a General Pediatrician for The Permanente Group – Kaiser Permanente Napa Solano Service Area. She also serves as Assistant Physician in Chief, Culturally Responsive Care and Inclusion. Dr. McNeill earned her Medical Doctor degree from Meharry Medical College and completed residency training at the Children’s Hospital and Research Center in Oakland, CA.

Virginia "Ginny" Mohl, MD, PhD, is the DIO and Medical Director at Billings Clinic. She also serves on the Board of Directors for Montana Family Medicine Residency. Dr. Mohl serves as Co-Chair of AIAMC National Initiative VII JEDI: Justice, Equity, Diversity, Inclusion. Dr. Mohl earned her PhD in Genetics and Cell Biology from Washington State University before attending and graduating from Baylor College of Medicine. She completed residency training at the University of Wyoming.

Greg Mohl, PhD, is an Independent Geophysicist and has worked with small new venture companies specializing in integrating geology and geophysics along with deploying emerging technologies in mature producing areas. These efforts led to discoveries in Wyoming, Montana, North and South Dakota. He earned his Doctorate in Geology from Washington State University and has authored original investigations into the geometric geophysical expression of the western edge of the North American Craton.

Shelly Monks, FACHE, is Vice President and Chief Academic Officer at Texas Health Resources, one of the largest faith-based, nonprofit health systems in the United States and largest in North Texas in terms of inpatient and outpatients served. She is also the Immediate Past President of the AIAMC Board of Directors. Ms. Monks is a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives and received an MBA degree from Colorado State University.

Mikaela Moore, MD, is a second-year Family Medicine Resident at TriHealth in Cincinnati, OH. She is a past recipient of Choose Ohio First Patient Centered Medical Home Scholarship and a current member of the Student National Medical Association where she served as a National Liaison. Dr. Moore graduated from The Ohio State University College of Medicine.

Glenda Mutinda, PhD, is the Director of Interprofessional Well-Being at JPS Health Network. In this role, she directs access to the residents and fellows, oversees all well-being initiatives, and holds an integral position in the organization's overarching Caring for the Caregiver task force. Dr. Mutinda earned her Doctoral degree in Medical Family Therapy from East Carolina University.

Ted O'Connell, MD, is Chief of the Department of Family and Community Medicine at Kaiser Permanente Vallejo, Founding Director of the Kaiser Permanente Napa-Solano Family Medicine Residency Program, and an Associate Clinical Professor in the Department of Family and Community Medicine at the UC San Francisco School of Medicine. Dr. O'Connell earned his Medical Doctor degree at the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA and completed his residency at UCLA-Santa Monica Medical Center.

Kari Oliver, MD, is a Clinical Adjunct Assistant Professor in the Department of Obstetrics-Gynecology at Aurora UW Medical Group. She is a graduate of the Washington University School of Medicine and completed residency training in Obstetrics and Gynecology at St. Louis University where she also served as Academic Chief Resident.

James "JP" Orlando, EdD, is the Chief Medical Education Officer at St. Luke's University Health Network - University Hospital Bethlehem. He also serves as Adjunct Associate Professor at University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Education and is Secretary-Treasurer of the AIAMC Board of Directors. Dr. Orlando earned his Doctor of Education degree in Corporate Leadership from the University of Pennsylvania.

Nicole Salvo, MD, is Program Director of the Obstetrics-Gynecology residency program at Aurora Sinai Medical Center. She also serves as Clinical Adjunct Assistant Professor, Aurora Health Care – University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health. Dr. Salvo earned her Medical Doctor degree from the University of Illinois at Chicago and completed residency training at Aurora Sinai Medical Center.

Deb Simpson, PhD, is the Academic Affairs Education Director for AdvocateAuroraHealth. She is also an Adjunct Clinical Professor in Family Medicine at the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health (UWSMPH) & at the Medical College of Wisconsin (MCW) and a Deputy Editor for the Journal of Graduate Medical Education (JGME). Dr. Simpson earned her doctorate in Educational Psychology from the University of Minnesota.

Diana Singer, PhD, is the Executive Director of Academic Affairs at JPS Health Network. She began her career at JPS in 2010 as an RN II in the Intensive Care Unit. Ms. Singer earned her Master of Science in Nursing from Texas Christian University and is currently pursuing a Doctor of Philosophy from Texas Christian University.

Tessa Stecker, MD, is Program Director for the Kaiser Permanente Northern California Community Medicine Fellowships and Course Director for the KP Northern California Resident Health Policy Elective. She works closely with medical students and residents completing their community medicine and global health rotations. Dr. Stecker earned her Medical Doctor degree from the University of Southern California and completed residency training in Family Medicine at Kaiser Woodland Hills.

Matthew Symkowick, MD, is Associate Program Director at the Kaiser Permanente Napa-Solano Family Medicine Residency and Physician in Charge, Kaiser Vallejo Medical Center. He is a graduate of Georgetown University School of Medicine and completed residency training in Family and Community Medicine at the University of California San Francisco.

Aljane Whitaker, MD, is a third-year Family Medicine Resident at the Kaiser Permanente Napa-Solano Residency Program where she serves as Chief Resident. She is a member of many professional societies, including the American Academy of Family Physicians and the Student National Medical Association. Dr. Whitaker is a graduate of the University of California Davis School of Medicine.