

AIAMC 2017 Annual Meeting - Faculty Bios

Ron Amedee, MD, FACS, is the Designated Institutional Official and Chairman Emeritus of the Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery Department at Ochsner Health System. Dr. Amedee was appointed to the ACGME's Institutional Review Committee (IRC) in 2013 and served as President, AIAMC Board of Directors, from 2014 to 2016. He is a graduate of the Louisiana State University School of Medicine and completed residency training at LSU School of Medicine/Charity Hospital of Louisiana.

Felix Ankel, MD, is Vice President and Executive Director of Health Professional Education at HealthPartners Institute. He is a Professor of Emergency Medicine at the University of Minnesota Medical School and previously served on the Board of Directors for the Council of Emergency Medicine Residency Directors (CORD). He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and completed residency training in emergency medicine at the University of Illinois.

Stephen Auciello, MD, is the Assistant Program Director for Family Medicine at OhioHealth-Riverside Methodist Hospital. He also serves as the Family Medicine Clerkship Site Director, coordinates the OhioHealth Chief Resident Development Series and is a member of the planning committee for Wellness on Wheels Primary Care. Dr. Auciello is a graduate of West Virginia University School of Medicine and completed residency training at OhioHealth-Riverside Methodist Hospital.

Jacob Bidwell, MD, is the Designated Institutional Official for Aurora Health Care and former Program Director and Chairman of Family Medicine. He serves as Clinical Adjunct Associate Professor of Family Medicine, University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health. Dr. Bidwell is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and completed residency training at St. Luke's Family Medicine program in Milwaukee.

AIAMC 2017 Annual Meeting - Faculty Bios

Laura Botwinick, MS, is Director of the Graduate Program in Health Administration and Policy (GPHAP) and Adjunct Instructor at the University of Chicago. She was an Institute for Healthcare Improvement (IHI) Fellow in 2004-05. Prior to joining the University of Chicago, she served in various roles at The Joint Commission, most recently as Vice President for Innovation and New Product Development. Ms. Botwinick earned a Master of Science degree from DePaul University and is a Certified Improvement Advisor.

Timothy Brigham, MDiv, PhD, is the Chief of Staff and Senior Vice President, Department of Education at the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME). His responsibilities, as head of the Department of Education, include the ACGME's Annual Educational Conference, the Milestone Outcome Project, and the development of new educational programs for the ACGME. Dr. Brigham earned a PhD in psychological studies in education from Temple University, a master's degree in counseling and human relations from Villanova University and a Master of Divinity from Palmer Theological Seminary.

John Chuck, MD, is the Regional Chairperson of the Physician Health & Wellness Leaders Group for The Permanente Medical Group, the nation's largest multi-specialty group practice comprised of 9,000 physicians serving four million patients in Northern California. He also serves as the Chief of Health Promotion and Information Technology Innovation for Kaiser Permanente in the Roseville/Sacramento region. Dr. Chuck is a graduate of UCLA School of Medicine and completed residency training at the UC Davis Medical Center.

Loretta Consiglio-Ward, MSN, is a Safety & Quality Specialist at Christiana Care Health System. She is responsible for developing, delivering, and evaluating learning experiences related to patient safety and quality improvement for interdisciplinary healthcare professionals and teams at Christiana's Value Institute Academy. Ms. Consiglio-Ward earned her Bachelor and Master degrees in nursing from Neumann University in Pennsylvania. She is certified as Development Dimensions International Facilitator.

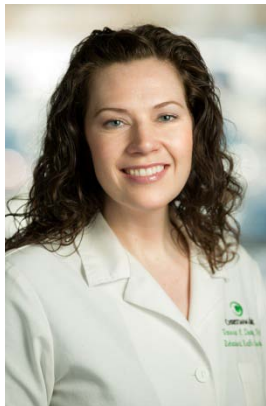

AIAMC 2017 Annual Meeting - Faculty Bios

Kathleen Crapanzano, MD, is an Associate Professor of Clinical Psychiatry with Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center (LSUHSC), Department of Psychiatry, and Program Director of the LSU-Our Lady of the Lake (LOL) Psychiatry Residency program. She previously served as the medical director of the Louisiana Office of Mental Health in the challenging years after Hurricane Katrina. Dr. Crapanzano earned her MD degree from LSU Health Sciences Center and completed residency training at the Medical College of Georgia.

Barry Dornfeld, PhD, is Principal and co-leads CFAR's Life Sciences and Higher Education Groups. He has been a strategic advisor to organizations in both the nonprofit and for-profit sectors, and is an expert on organizational change, governance, and collaboration. Dr. Dornfeld earned his Doctorate in communication from the Annenberg School of the University of Pennsylvania and has been a faculty member at New York University and the University of the Arts in Philadelphia.

Vanessa Downing, PhD, is a licensed psychologist for Christiana Care Health System's Center for Heart and Vascular Health and for its Provider Wellbeing Project. She works exclusively with cardiovascular patients and provides assessments, brief therapy interventions and outpatient psychotherapy for cardiovascular patients coping with chronic illnesses. Dr. Downing earned her Doctorate in counseling psychology from the University of Maryland in 2008 and joined Christiana Care in 2009.

Robert Dressler, MD, MBA, is the Quality and Safety Officer for Academic and Medical Affairs at Christiana Care Health System. He also currently serves as Vice President, AIAMC Board of Directors, and will be the AIAMC President in 2017-19. Dr. Dressler is a graduate of the Sackler School of Medicine - Tel Aviv University, Israel, and completed residency training in Internal Medicine at Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center.

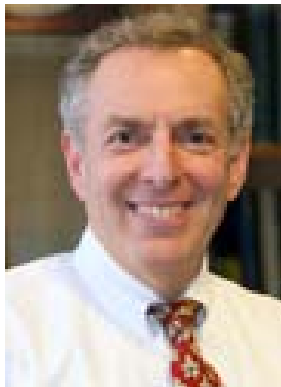

AIAMC 2017 Annual Meeting - Faculty Bios

Heather Farley, MD, is the Director of Provider Wellbeing for Christiana Care Health System. In this role, she oversees internal initiatives designed to address institutional and individual sources of provider stress and burnout, while fostering overall provider wellbeing, joy and meaning in work. Dr. Farley also serves as an Associate Professor of Emergency Medicine at Thomas Jefferson University. She is a graduate of Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and completed residency training at Christiana Care.

Carey Gallagher, MBA, is a Senior Manager in CFAR's Healthcare Group and Change Implementation practice areas. She is skilled at analyzing organizational dilemmas in complex environments in ways that help people discover common interests, communicate more effectively and work collaboratively on shared interests. Ms. Gallagher earned her Master of Business Administration degree with a concentration in international business from the Fox School at Temple University.

Donald Goldmann, MD, is Chief Medical and Scientific Officer, Institute for Healthcare Improvement (IHI) and Clinical Professor of Pediatrics at Harvard Medical School. He has a long track record focused on identifying and testing innovative interventions to improve health care quality, as well as in disseminating and implementing evidence-based practices at-scale in diverse provider settings. Dr. Goldmann earned his MD degree at Harvard Medical School and completed residency and fellowship training at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Atul Grover, MD, PhD, is Executive Vice President at the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC). In this role, he provides strategic leadership in the areas of medical education, academic affairs, health care affairs, scientific affairs, learning and leadership programming, diversity and inclusion, public policy and communications. He holds faculty appointments at George Washington University (GWU) School of Medicine and Johns Hopkins University Bloomberg School of Public Health. Dr. Grover is a graduate of the GWU School of Medicine and earned his PhD in health and public policy from Johns Hopkins University.

AIAMC 2017 Annual Meeting - Faculty Bios

Brian Hainline, MD, is the Chief Medical Officer of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). As the NCAA's first CMO, he oversees the NCAA Sport Science Institute, a national center of excellence whose mission is to promote and develop safety, excellence and wellness in college student-athletes, and to foster life-long physical and mental development. Dr. Hainline is a graduate of the University of Chicago-Pritzker School of Medicine and completed residency training in neurology at The New York Hospital- Cornell Medical Center.

Laurie Hommema, MD, is the Program Director of Family Medicine at OhioHealth-Riverside Methodist Hospital. She is also a Clinical Assistant Professor at the Northeast Ohio Medical University and Ohio University Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine. Dr. Hommema is a graduate of The Ohio State University College of Medicine, completed residency training at OhioHealth-Riverside Methodist Hospital and participated in AIAMC National Initiative III.

Carla Kelly, DO, MMM, FACOOG, is the Program Director and Chair of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Aurora Health Care. She serves as Clinical Adjunct Associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health. Dr. Kelly is a graduate of Des Moines University School of Medicine and completed residency training at St. John's Riverview Hospital in Detroit, Michigan. She recently earned a Master degree in Medical Management at Carnegie Mellon University.

Will Lehmann, MD, is the Program Director and Chairman of Family Medicine at Aurora Health Care and is the former Medical Director at Aurora Walker's Point Community Clinic. He is a Clinical Adjunct Assistant Professor of Family Medicine and Community Health at the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health. Dr. Lehmann is a graduate of the University of Louisville School of Medicine and completed residency training at the University of Utah.

AIAMC 2017 Annual Meeting - Faculty Bios

Tsveti Markova, MD, FAAFP, is the Associate Dean for Graduate Medical Education and Designated Institutional Official for Wayne State University. She is also a Professor and Chair of the Wayne State University School of Medicine's Department of Family Medicine and Public Services. Dr. Markova was appointed to the AIAMC Board of Directors in 2014. She received a Doctorate of Medicine from the Medical University of Varna, Bulgaria, and completed residency training at North Oakland Medical Centers in Pontiac, Michigan.

Graham McMahon, MD, MMSc is the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education, which sets standards for high-quality continuing medical education that improves physician competence and performance and contributes to healthcare improvement for patients and their communities. A medical educator, researcher, and endocrinologist, Dr. McMahon joined the ACCME in April 2015 from Harvard Medical School. A native of Dublin, Ireland, Dr. McMahon earned his medical degree from the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland.

Shelly Monks, MBA, is the System Vice President of Education for the Ochsner Health System and the Chief Administrative Officer for the University of Queensland, Ochsner Clinical School. Ms. Monks' current areas of responsibility include the Medical Library, Patient Education Systems, Publishing Services, Medical Illustration and the continuum of Medical Education. She has served on the AIAMC Board of Directors since 2010. Ms. Monks earned a Master of Business Administration degree in from Colorado State University.

Carine Nzodom, MD, is a third-year resident in the LSU-Our Lady of the Lake psychiatry residency in Baton Rouge, LA. She served as a research assistant at the Henry M. Jackson Foundation for the Advancement of Military Medicine/US Military HIV Research Program in Rockville, Maryland prior to starting medical school. Dr. Nzodom is a graduate of Ross University School of Medicine.

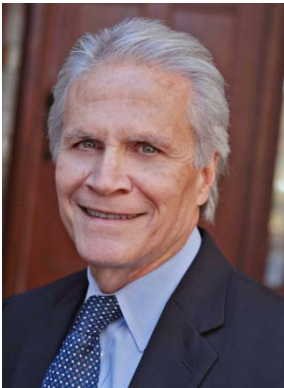

AIAMC 2017 Annual Meeting - Faculty Bios

Janice Piazza, MSN, MBA, is Assistant Vice President for Graduate Medical Education at Ochsner Health System. She has more than forty years of experience in health care including twenty years in critical care nursing, performance improvement and patient safety. Ms. Piazza earned a Masters degree in Nursing from the University of South Alabama and a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of New Orleans.

Deborah Simpson, PhD, is the Medical Education Programs Director, Academic Administration, for the Aurora UW Medical Group in Milwaukee. She is also an Adjunct Clinical Professor in Family and Community Medicine at the Medical College of Wisconsin and at the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health. Dr. Simpson serves as Deputy Editor for the Journal of Graduate Medical Education and is a Director on the AIAMC Board. She earned her PhD in Educational Psychology from the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Wayne Sotile, PhD, is the founder of the Sotile Center for Resilience and the Center for Physician Resilience. He is an international thought leader on physician resilience and work/life balance for busy professionals. Dr. Sotile consults widely with health care systems, teaching evidence-based strategies for deepening collaboration and collegiality and promoting physician engagement and resilience while coping with change. He earned a PhD in Clinical Psychology from the University of South Carolina and completed clinical training at Duke University Medical Center.

R. Brent Stansfield, PhD, is the Director of Graduate Medical Education at Wayne State University. Prior to joining Wayne State in 2016, he served as a Research Investigator in the Department of Medical Education at the University of Michigan. Dr. Stansfield's primary interest is in the education of patient-oriented clinicians by teaching communication, empathy and cultural competence. He earned his PhD in Psychology from the University of California-Berkeley.

AIAMC 2017 Annual Meeting - Faculty Bios

Jeffrey Stearns, MD, is a Professor of Family Medicine at the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health and formerly served as DIO at Aurora Health Care. Dr. Stearns serves as PI for Aurora Health Care's National Initiative V projects for Improving Community Health and Health Equity Through Medical Education. A former Director on the AIAMC Board, he received the Weinberg Award in 2014. Dr. Stearns earned his MD degree from the University of Michigan and completed residency training at Hunterdon Medical Center in Flemington, New Jersey.

Brian Williams, MD, is a trauma surgeon at the UT Southwestern Medical School/Parkland Memorial Hospital's Department of Surgery, Division of Burns, Trauma and Critical Care. He spends his time teaching and mentoring medical students, surgery residents, and fellows. Prior to starting medical school, Dr. Williams served six years active duty as an aeronautical engineer in the US Air Force. He is a graduate of the University of South Florida College of Medicine and completed residency training at Brigham and Women's Hospital.